Disclaimer

This audit was performed using artificial intelligence tools to evaluate the presence and strength of classical education principles on school websites. Results are automated, probabilistic in nature, and should be considered indicative rather than definitive. See the full disclaimer in the Appendix more details.

ACCS Member School

Any school that belongs to the Association of Classical Christian Schools ACCS or the Society for Classical Learning SCL is, by definition, recognized as a classical school because both organizations require adherence to the six essential elements defined by the Humanitas Institute. However, a school's website may not clearly reflect its conformity to one or more elements. In such cases, the school may still receive a "Somewhat Classical" rating for those elements. Schools can update their website content at any time to achieve a "Classical" rating for a given element.

Augustine School (augustineschool.com) — Classicality Audit

URL used: <https://www.augustineschool.com/>

Executive Summary - Overall classification: SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL - Why: The site explicitly centers truth, goodness, beauty; Christian theological grounding; prayerful community life; and partnership with parents—all strong classical signals. However, the public pages captured in the crawl do not yet make explicit enough claims about the Trivium (grammar, logic, rhetoric), Latin or classical languages, Great Books/primary texts, and upper□school Socratic/rhetoric practices. Strengthening public curricular and pedagogy detail would likely move the school to a clear CLASSICAL rating. - Highlights: - “Discover the Good, the True, and the Beautiful with Classical Christian Education” foregrounds transcendental moral realism (truth, goodness, beauty) as aims of formation. - “Biblically-Based,” “Gospel-Centered,” and submission of knowledge to the “Lordship of Christ” show theological integration; the community invites a “Season of Prayer” (liturgical/communal practice). - Mission language emphasizes “forming wise and virtuous young men and women” who “love goodness, truth, and beauty,” aligning with formation in wisdom and virtue over mere information transfer. - Clear parent partnership and community hospitality: “partner with families,” Mommy & Me reading events, Open House, Volunteer, Current Families resources. - ACCS accreditation underscores classical identity, though our rating is based on published keyword evidence rather than affiliation alone.

Scoring Framework used - Six Essential Elements of a Classical School keyword indicators (positive/negative) served as the rubric for each category's keyword comparison and scoring. - Supporting lexicon of classical keywords by category informed detection and coverage estimates.

CATEGORY 1: RELIGIOUS AND METAPHYSICAL FOUNDATIONS 1) Keywords observed on the school site - Positive indicators found: - Transcendentals and moral realism: “Good, True, and Beautiful” (multiple mentions)

- Virtue/wisdom aims: “forming wise and virtuous young men and women” - Theology integration: “Biblically□Based,” “Gospel□Centered,” “Lordship of Christ” - Liturgical/communal: “Season of Prayer” (community prayer guide) - No negative indicators (e.g., values□neutral, relativism) were present in the captured pages.

2) Comparison to the Six Elements lexicon

- Positive matches: truth, goodness, beauty; virtue/wisdom; theology/Christ□centered; prayer—directly align with Religious & Metaphysical Foundations positive lists (transcendentals, grounded in theology, liturgy/prayer).
- Negative list items (e.g., “values□neutral education,” “moral relativism”) not observed.

3) Quantification

- Positive hits: 9 (truth, goodness, beauty x3; virtue; wisdom; Biblically□Based; Gospel□Centered; Lordship of Christ; prayer)
- Negative hits: 0

- Percent positive: 100%
 - Coverage within this category's subelements (moral realism, theology, liturgical life): 100%

4) Rating

- CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 2: SCHOOL PURPOSE AND GOAL 1) Keywords observed - "form students who love goodness, truth, and beauty" - "forming wise and virtuous young men and women" (formation > information) - "partner with families to develop a student's intellect, character, and faith" (formation language)

2) Comparison to the Six Elements lexicon

- Positive matches: cultivation of wisdom and virtue; pursuit of the true, good, beautiful; education as formation, not mere information .

3) Quantification

- Positive hits: 7 (virtue, wisdom, formation language, T-G-B emphasis, love of learning)
- Negative hits: 0 (no "college and career ready"/"21st-century skills" emphasis)
- Percent positive: 100%
- Coverage of subelements: 100%

4) Rating

- CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 3: SCHOOL CURRICULUM 1) Keywords observed - "Classical model of education," "Classically-Informed" - "excellent literature," "the finest art," and strong fine arts presence (visual arts, music, drama) . - The crawl shows an Academics page and The Curriculum page, but explicit public statements about Trivium, Latin/classical languages, Great Books/primary texts, and history (vs. social studies) were not captured in the textual snippets we received .

2) Comparison to the Six Elements lexicon

- Positive matches: fine arts are present (Quadrivial music/arts). However, explicit textual matches to "Trivium/Quadrivium," "Latin," "Great Books/primary sources," and "history (not social studies)" were not evident in the crawl content we analyzed. The lexicon expects visible emphasis on grammar, logic, rhetoric; Great Books; integrated study; wonder .

3) Quantification

- Positive hits (curricular cues found): ~5 (classical model claim; literature; visual arts; music; drama)
- Negative hits: 0 (no "project-based first," "STEM-first" or "social studies" framing found)
- Percent positive: 100% of observed hits were positive
- Coverage across the four curricular subareas (7 liberal arts; Great Books/primary texts; integrated/harmony; wonder): ~50% (explicitness missing for Trivium/Latin/Great Books)

4) Rating

- SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 4: SCHOOL PEDAGOGY OR TEACHING METHODS 1) Keywords observed - "Autumn Recitation" indicates memory/recitation practices are part of school life . - Concerts and fine arts productions indicate a culture of performance/music, but these do not (by themselves) attest to lower-school singing/chanting as a memorization tool, nor to Socratic seminars/rhetoric orations in the upper school .

2) Comparison to the Six Elements lexicon

- Positive matches: recitation (memory work) is a direct keyword in the pedagogy lexicon .
- Missing or not yet explicit: scholé/restful learning; Socratic/seminar/debate; explicit rhetoric speeches/orations (upper school) .

3) Quantification

- Positive hits: 1 (recitation)
- Negative hits: 0 (no “project-based only/constructivist” marketing found)
- Percent positive: 100%
- Coverage of pedagogical sub-elements (Socratic/dialectic; scholé/rest; memorization/chant; imitation/rhetoric speeches): ~25%

4) Rating

- SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL
- Note: If the school presently serves PK-8, lack of upper-school Socratic/rhetoric is not disqualifying, but explicit K-8 pedagogy (singing/chanting/memory and restful learning) should be articulated per the lexicon’s expectations .

CATEGORY 5: SCHOOL FACULTY 1) Keywords observed - Public pages highlight “engaging faculty,” “teachers and administration,” and a Teachers Fund; however, there is no explicit public articulation (in the captured pages) of teachers as models/mentors, “living curriculum,” collegial culture, or a published “portrait of a teacher/student” .

2) Comparison to the Six Elements lexicon

- The faculty ideals expected (mentors/modelling virtue; teacher formation in classical pedagogy; collegial “faculty of friends”) were not clearly stated on the pages captured .

3) Quantification

- Positive hits: ~1 (general esteem for teachers/administration)
- Negative hits: 0 (no “facilitator/guide-on-the-side” jargon)
- Percent positive: 100%
- Coverage: ~25% (minimal explicit alignment with faculty ideals on public pages)

4) Rating

- SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 6: SCHOOL PARENTS & COMMUNITY 1) Keywords observed - “partner with families” in the school’s own mission language - Mommy & Me (literature read-aloud and community hospitality for families with young children), Open House, Volunteer opportunities, Current Families hub, Season of Prayer (community practice) .

2) Comparison to the Six Elements lexicon

- Positive matches: partnership with families, parent/community formation touchpoints, intentional community life and hospitality—direct alignments with this category’s positive cues .

3) Quantification

- Positive hits: 6 (partner language; Mommy & Me; Open House; Volunteer; Current Families; Season of Prayer)
- Negative hits: 0
- Percent positive: 100%
- Coverage: 100% (parent partnership, community formation, cultural practices are evident)

4) Rating

- CLASSICAL

Overall Assessment - Aggregate rating: SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL - Rationale: Three categories (1, 2, 6) are clearly CLASSICAL by explicit language; three (3, 4, 5) are SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL due to missing explicit curricular and pedagogy specifics (Trivium/Latin/Great Books/Socratic/rhetoric orations/teacher-as-mentor statements) on the public pages captured in the crawl. Strengthening those pages should elevate the rating to CLASSICAL.

What would move the needle - Curriculum page: Add explicit statements and examples naming “Trivium (grammar, logic, rhetoric),” “Quadrivium,” “Latin” (or other classical languages), “Great Books/primary sources,” “history (not social studies),” and “integration/wonder.” These are core positive indicators in the “Curriculum” element . - Pedagogy page: Describe lower□school “singing/chanting/memorization/recitation,” restful learning/scholé, and upper□school “Socratic seminars, debates, rhetoric speeches/capstone theses.” These are the expected positive pedagogy indicators . - Faculty page: Publish a “Portrait of a Teacher” (model teacher/mentor; living curriculum; collegial faculty) to align with the Faculty element’s positive indicators . - Community formation: Consider describing parent education offerings (book studies on Great Books/classical education basics) to further reinforce Element 6 positives (parent formation) .

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE DISCLAIMER

This audit was conducted using artificial intelligence tools (including large language models and automated web-analysis scripts) to evaluate the extent to which school websites reflect or incorporate recognized principles of classical education (e.g., the trivium, emphasis on truth/beauty/goodness, integration of great books, Latin/classical languages, Socratic method, rigorous academics, moral/character formation, etc.).

Important Limitations and Caveats

1. Automated Nature: The analysis relies on AI interpretation of publicly-accessible school website content as of the date of the audit. It does not involve direct contact with schools, review of internal documents, classroom observation, or verification of curriculum implementation beyond what is stated or implied on the website.
2. Probabilistic Results: Scores and assessments are probabilistic and reflect the AI's best interpretation of available text and site structure. They are not infallible and may miss nuance, context, or recent changes not yet reflected online.
3. Subjectivity of Classical Education: "Classical Education" encompasses a range of traditions and interpretations (e.g., Dorothy Sayers' trivium model, Classical Christian Education, Great Books programs, etc.). The Humanitas Institute Audit of the Six Elements of Classical Education uses a broad, consensus-based framework derived from prominent classical education organizations and thought leaders. Reasonable people may disagree on weighting or inclusion of specific criteria.
4. No Official Endorsement or Certification: Results do not constitute official endorsement, accreditation, or certification by any classical education organization. They are provided for informational and research purposes only.
5. Potential for Error: Websites may be incomplete, poorly worded, or temporarily inaccurate. Conversely, sophisticated marketing language may create false positives. Human review by parents, educators, or classical education experts is strongly recommended before drawing final conclusions about any school.
6. Data Privacy and Ethics: Only publicly available information was analyzed. No attempts were made to access password-protected areas or collect personal data.
7. No Liability: The authors, developers, and distributors of this audit assume no liability for decisions made on the basis of these results. Users are solely responsible for their own due diligence.
