Artificial Intelligence Disclaimer

This audit was performed using artificial intelligence tools to evaluate the presence and strength of classical education principles on school websites. Results are automated, probabilistic in nature, and should be considered indicative rather than definitive. See the full disclaimer in the Appendix more details.

Overall Classification: SOMEWHAT CLASSICALClassicality Audit Report: Bishop Louis Reicher Catholic School (Waco, TX)

Website audited: <https://bishopreicher.com/>

Executive Summary - Overall classification: SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL - Why: The school publicly embraces a Catholic liberal arts formation oriented toward wisdom, virtue, and the pursuit of the true, good, and beautiful, with clear evidence of liturgical life and virtue formation. However, the site offers limited explicit signals of distinctive classical curriculum and pedagogy (e.g., Trivium, Latin, Great Books, Socratic seminars), and includes some modern school markers (e.g., “Social Studies,” “hands-on learning” in science). Evidence of a classical faculty profile is thin on public pages. - Highlights: - Religious and metaphysical foundations are strong (virtue formation rooted in Aquinas; catechesis; regular sacred liturgy and music). - Purpose is stated in classical terms (Catholic liberal arts that “cultivates wisdom, virtue”; “forms saints, scholars, and leaders”; “foster what is good, true, and beautiful”). - Curriculum/pedagogy signaling is mixed (liberal arts claim; “classic literature” in early grades; but “Social Studies,” “hands-on learning” language, and no explicit Trivium/Great Books/Socratic). - Bottom line: Strong Catholic formation and liberal arts intent; incomplete public evidence of core classical curriculum/pedagogy elements.

Scoring Framework - Method: Keyword analysis for each of the Six Elements (Religious & Metaphysical Foundations; Purpose & Goal; Curriculum; Pedagogy; Faculty; Parents & Community), using the positive/negative indicators provided in “Six Essential Elements of a Classical School” and the classicality lexicon (e.g., truth/goodness/beauty, virtue, theology, liturgy, Trivium, Great Books, Socratic, scholé, wonder, chanting; negatives such as social studies replacing history, project-based/experiential emphasis when it displaces classical methods). - Category ratings: CLASSICAL / SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL / NOT CLASSICAL. - Quantification: Distinct positive vs. negative keyword hits from the school’s public pages are counted; “percent_positive” and “percent_coverage” reflect strength and breadth of classical signals on the site.

CATEGORY 1: RELIGIOUS AND METAPHYSICAL FOUNDATIONS — CLASSICAL 1) Keyword evidence found on the school site: - Positive indicators: - “Good, true, and beautiful” (transcendentals) — “we foster what is good, true, and beautiful” - “Cultivates wisdom, virtue” and “Catholic liberal arts” - Grounded in Aquinas; explicit “prudence, justice, fortitude, temperance” (cardinal virtues) and “faith, hope, charity” - “Word of Life catechesis,” “Education in Virtue,” “regular participation in sacred liturgy and music” - Negative indicators: None observed (no “values-neutral,” “relativism,” etc.).

2) Mapping to Six Elements lexicon:

- Positive matches: truth/goodness/beauty; virtue; wisdom; theology/catechesis; liturgy/sacred music (all positive signals).
- Quantification:
- Positive hits (distinct terms/phrases): +9 (truth, goodness, beauty, virtue, wisdom, theology/catechesis, liturgy, sacred music, Aquinas); Negative hits: 0
- Percent positive: 100%
- Percent coverage (breadth of sub-signals within the category): 75%
- Category rating: CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 2: SCHOOL PURPOSE AND GOAL — CLASSICAL 1) Keyword evidence found on the school site: - Positive indicators: - “Rigorous Catholic liberal arts curriculum that cultivates wisdom, virtue...” -

Purpose framed as formation: “education that forms saints, scholars, and leaders” - Reiteration of “good, true, and beautiful” as aims - Negative indicators (pragmatic orientation): - College advising language speaks of “future success” (pragmatic/college placement emphasis is a negative signal when it dominates) ; see negative exemplars in the Six Elements doc’s lists for Purpose/Goal tradeoffs.

2) Mapping to Six Elements lexicon:

- Positive matches: formation, cultivate virtue, wisdom; pursuit of true/good/beautiful; liberal education.
- Quantification:
- Positive hits: +5; Negative hits: -1
- Percent positive: 83%
- Percent coverage: 60%
- Category rating: CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 3: CURRICULUM — SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL 1) Keyword evidence found on the school site: - Positive indicators: - “Catholic liberal arts curriculum” (explicit) - Early grades: students read “classic literature” alongside science/history/nonfiction - Negative indicators: - “Social Studies” listed (a classic negative signal when it replaces “History”) ; see negative indicators in the lexicon for Curriculum. - Not found (as explicit public claims): Trivium/Quadrivium; Latin; Great Books; Socratic seminars; “wonder.”

2) Mapping to Six Elements lexicon:

- Positive matches: liberal arts; classic literature (partial proxy toward Great Books).
- Negative matches: social studies replacing history.
- Quantification:
- Positive hits: +2; Negative hits: -1
- Percent positive: 67%
- Percent coverage: 30% (few explicit classical curriculum signals)
- Category rating: SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 4: SCHOOL PEDAGOGY / TEACHING METHODS — SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL 1) Keyword evidence found on the school site: - Positive indicators: - “Catechesis” (often includes memory/recitation; aligns with classical memory work) - Negative indicators: - “Hands on learning” in science (a modern/experiential marker; negative when it replaces memory/recitation or Socratic) ; see negative examples under pedagogy (experiential, hands on, project based) in the Six Elements doc.

2) Mapping to Six Elements lexicon:

- Positive matches: catechesis/memory work.
- Absent/weak: Socratic seminar, disputation, chants/recitation as pedagogy, scholé/restful learning, rhetoric/orations.
- Quantification:
- Positive hits: +1; Negative hits: -1
- Percent positive: 50%
- Percent coverage: 20%
- Category rating: SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 5: FACULTY — NOT CLASSICAL 1) Keyword evidence found on the school site: - Positive indicators: - General “dedicated faculty” language appears but without a classical teacher portrait, faculty-as-mentors language, or faculty formation in classical pedagogy on public pages (see Advisory Board page and general language). - Negative indicators: None explicit (no “facilitator/guide on the side” jargon).

2) Mapping to Six Elements lexicon:

- Missing explicit markers: “teachers as models of virtue,” “living curriculum,” “faculty of friends,” teacher formation in classical pedagogy.
- Quantification:
- Positive hits: +0; Negative hits: -0
- Percent positive: 0%

- Percent coverage: 0% (no explicit classical faculty profile)
- Category rating: NOT CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 6: PARENTS & COMMUNITY — CLASSICAL 1) Keyword evidence found on the school site: - Positive indicators: - Admissions: “Family Meeting” as first step in “forming a partnership with you” (parents) - Open House; “Cougar Coffee, Talk & Tour”; “Cougar for a Day” shadow; multiple public visit invitations (open campus posture) - Parent testimonies highlighted - Negative indicators: None observed.

2) Mapping to Six Elements lexicon:

- Positive matches: partnership with parents; hospitality/open campus; communication and community engagement.
- Quantification:
- Positive hits: +3; Negative hits: -0
- Percent positive: 100%
- Percent coverage: 60%
- Category rating: CLASSICAL

Overall Assessment: SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL - Strong Catholic formation (virtues, liturgy, catechesis) and stated liberal arts purpose (truth/goodness/beauty; wisdom/virtue) are clear strengths. - Public curriculum/pedagogy signals lack several hallmark classical markers (Trivium/Quadrivium, Latin, Great Books, explicit Socratic/seminar/rhetoric practices), and a few modern markers appear (Social Studies, hands-on learning). - Faculty page(s) don't yet articulate a classical teacher profile.

What Would Move the Needle - Curriculum: - Publicly name Trivium/Quadrivium and show where grammar, logic, and rhetoric are taught; add Latin (even if phased) and publish Great Books/primary source lists by grade; relabel “Social Studies” as “History” with chronological scope notes. - Pedagogy: - Document Socratic seminars in upper school; showcase debate/orations/rhetoric capstones; highlight lower school chanting/recitation and memory work; add a brief on scholé/restful learning and wonder in the classroom. - Faculty: - Publish a “Portrait of a Teacher” and “living curriculum” statement; outline teacher formation in classical pedagogy and ongoing Great Books seminars for faculty. - Parents & Community: - Add explicit parent formation offerings (book clubs on the great books/classical education) and a brief explainer tying home practices to the school's classical ethos.

Detailed Keyword Tally (by category) - Cat. 1 Religious/Metaphysical: +9 / -0 (truth, goodness, beauty; virtue; wisdom; theology/catechesis; liturgy; sacred music; Aquinas) - Cat. 2 Purpose/Goal: +5 / -1 (wisdom, virtue, liberal arts, forms saints/scholars/leaders; - future success/college advising emphasis) - Cat. 3 Curriculum: +2 / -1 (liberal arts; classic literature; - Social Studies) - Cat. 4 Pedagogy: +1 / -1 (catechesis/memory work; - hands-on learning emphasis) - Cat. 5 Faculty: +0 / -0 (insufficient explicit classical faculty signals) - Cat. 6 Parents & Community: +3 / -0 (partnership, open house/visits, testimonials)

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE DISCLAIMER

This audit was conducted using artificial intelligence tools (including large language models and automated web-analysis scripts) to evaluate the extent to which school websites reflect or incorporate recognized principles of classical education (e.g., the trivium, emphasis on truth/beauty/goodness, integration of great books, Latin/classical languages, Socratic method, rigorous academics, moral/character formation, etc.).

Important Limitations and Caveats

1. Automated Nature: The analysis relies on AI interpretation of publicly-accessible school website content as of the date of the audit. It does not involve direct contact with schools, review of internal documents, classroom observation, or verification of curriculum implementation beyond what is stated or implied on the website.
2. Probabilistic Results: Scores and assessments are probabilistic and reflect the AI's best interpretation of available text and site structure. They are not infallible and may miss nuance, context, or recent changes not yet reflected online.
3. Subjectivity of Classical Education: "Classical Education" encompasses a range of traditions and interpretations (e.g., Dorothy Sayers' trivium model, Classical Christian Education, Great Books programs, etc.). The Humanitas Institute Audit of the Six Elements of Classical Education uses a broad, consensus-based framework derived from prominent classical education organizations and thought leaders. Reasonable people may disagree on weighting or inclusion of specific criteria.
4. No Official Endorsement or Certification: Results do not constitute official endorsement, accreditation, or certification by any classical education organization. They are provided for informational and research purposes only.
5. Potential for Error: Websites may be incomplete, poorly worded, or temporarily inaccurate. Conversely, sophisticated marketing language may create false positives. Human review by parents, educators, or classical education experts is strongly recommended before drawing final conclusions about any school.
6. Data Privacy and Ethics: Only publicly available information was analyzed. No attempts were made to access password-protected areas or collect personal data.
7. No Liability: The authors, developers, and distributors of this audit assume no liability for decisions made on the basis of these results. Users are solely responsible for their own due diligence.
