Results are automated, probabilistic in nature, and should be considered indicative rather than definitive. See the full disclaimer in the Appendix more details.

Overall Classification: SOMEWHAT CLASSICALClassicality Audit: Berean Christian Academy (Katy, TX)

Website used: <https://bereanchristianacademy.org>

Executive Summary

Overall classification: SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL

Berean Christian Academy presents strong classical Christian markers: an explicit Christ-centered mission grounded in Truth, Goodness, and Beauty; a curriculum structured around the seven liberal arts with the Trivium (Grammar, Logic, Rhetoric), Latin, Great Books, and a senior thesis; and upper□school pedagogy that includes Harkness discussion, formal logic, debate, and rhetoric. These align closely with the positive indicators in the Six Essential Elements framework and lexicon (e.g., truth/goodness/beauty, theology, Great Books, Trivium, Harkness/seminar, rhetoric).

Gaps: The public materials reviewed do not explicitly reference liturgy/chapel, lower□school singing/chanting/memory work, or restful learning (scholé); faculty are not described as mentors/living curriculum; and parent formation opportunities are not specified. These omissions reduce category coverage in Religious Foundations, Pedagogy (K–8), Faculty, and Parents & Community relative to the Six Elements criteria and keyword sets.

Highlights from the school site: - Mission anchors to “Truth, Goodness, and Beauty” within a “Christ-centered worldview,” and emphasizes a parent–faculty “partnership”. - Curriculum claims “the time tested learning model of the seven liberal arts,” details the Trivium (Grammar/Logic/Rhetoric), Latin, Great Books, original texts, theology, philosophy, oratory, and a 12th□grade Senior Thesis. - Upper□school pedagogy includes formal logic, debate, and Harkness Table conversation, culminating in rhetorical performance and thesis defense.

Aggregate result across the six categories: 2 Classical, 4 Somewhat Classical → Overall SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL.

CATEGORY 1: RELIGIOUS AND METAPHYSICAL FOUNDATIONS

Evidence from site - “Christ-centered worldview,” “Truth, Goodness, and Beauty,” and study in “theology”.

Keyword analysis (per Six Elements lexicon) - Positive matches found on the school site: truth (3), goodness (1), beauty (1), theology (1), Christ-centered/Christian (2) → 8 positives total. These are listed as core positives in the lexicon (truth/goodness/beauty; theology; Christ-centered). - Negative matches: none detected (e.g., relativism, value-neutral, secular/faith□optional cues). - Quantification: +8 / -0 → percent_positive ≈ 100%.

Coverage vs. Six Elements sub-criteria - Transcendental moral realism (truth, goodness, beauty): present - Grounded in theology: present - Liturgical/communal worship practices (chapel, prayer, hymnody): not evidenced - Estimated percent_coverage: 2 of 3 ≈ 67%.

Rating: SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 2: SCHOOL PURPOSE AND GOAL

Evidence from site - Mission centers on TGB; “virtue development” noted; aim is for students to live “for the glory of Christ and benefit of others” (formation-leaning language).

Keyword analysis - Positive matches: truth (1), goodness (1), beauty (1), virtue (1), wisdom (1) → +5; all align to “cultivation of wisdom and virtue” and “pursuit of the true, good, and beautiful”. - Negative matches: “leadership opportunities” (1) can register as a slight negative signal given “leadership training” appears in the negative list under skills/outcomes-heavy aims; we record this conservatively as one negative hit in this category’s phrasing context. - Quantification: +5 / -1 → percent_positive ≈ 83%.

Coverage vs. criteria - Cultivation of virtue and wisdom: present - Pursuit of truth, goodness, beauty: present - Formation not information: implicit but not explicit - Estimated percent_coverage: 2 of 3 ≈ 67%.

Rating: CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 3: SCHOOL CURRICULUM

Evidence from site - “Seven liberal arts,” Trivium (Grammar, Logic, Rhetoric), Latin, Great Books, original ancient texts/primary sources, theology, philosophy, oratory, Senior Thesis.

Keyword analysis - Positive matches: seven liberal arts (1), grammar (1), logic (1), rhetoric (1), Latin (1), Great Books (1), original/primary texts (1), theology (1), philosophy (1), oratory (1), senior thesis (1), debate classes (1) → +12; all appear as positives in the framework (Trivium/Quadrivium, Great Books/primary sources, rhetoric/oratory). - Negative matches: none detected (e.g., “social studies” replacing history, STEM-first, project-based dominance). - Quantification: +12 / -0 → percent_positive ≈ 100%.

Coverage vs. criteria - Liberal Arts (Trivium/Quadrivium): present - History as history (vs “social studies”): not evidenced in the crawl snippet - Great Books/Great Conversation: present - Wonder/integration language: not evidenced in the snippet - Estimated percent_coverage: 2 of 4 ≈ 50%.

Rating: CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 4: SCHOOL PEDAGOGY OR TEACHING METHODS

Evidence from site - Upper school: formal logic and debate classes, Harkness Table conversation, rhetoric culminating in a 12th-grade Senior Thesis, students “persuasively defend” ideas in “eloquent and beautiful conversations and writings”.

Keyword analysis - Positive matches: Harkness seminar/discussion (1), debate (1), logic (1), rhetoric (1), thesis/oration (1) → +5; these align to Socratic/dialectic and rhetoric practice in the Six Elements lexicon. - Negative matches: none (no signals like “project-based learning” dominance or “student-led” constructivism). - Quantification: +5 / -0 → percent_positive ≈ 100%.

Coverage vs. criteria - Restful/Scholé: not evidenced (no explicit restful learning language). - Lower school singing/chanting/memory work and “education in wonder”: not evidenced in the snippet. - Upper school Socratic/seminar/debate/logic: present - Upper school rhetoric/speeches/thesis: present - Estimated percent_coverage: 2 of 5 ≈ 40%.

Rating: SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 5: SCHOOL FACULTY

Evidence from site - Staffing titles listed; “mentorships” included among student experiences; faculty degrees noted (72% of upper school faculty have advanced degrees).

Keyword analysis - Positive matches: mentorship/mentors (1) → +1. The Six Elements emphasize “teacher as mentor” and “living curriculum,” but those phrases are not explicit in the crawl snippet. - Negative matches: none (no “guides on the side”/facilitator□only language). - Quantification: +1 / -0 → percent_positive ≈ 100%.

Coverage vs. criteria - Model teachers/mentors; living curriculum; collegial faculty; portrait of a teacher/student: mostly not evidenced in public text - Estimated percent_coverage: ≈ 25%.

Rating: SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL

CATEGORY 6: SCHOOL PARENTS AND COMMUNITY

Evidence from site - “Berean operates as a partnership between faculty and parents” (mission statement).

Keyword analysis - Positive matches: parent partnership (1) → +1; consistent with partnership/co□educators language in the Six Elements lexicon. - Negative matches: none (no “parent as customer”/minimal involvement language). - Quantification: +1 / -0 → percent_positive ≈ 100%.

Coverage vs. criteria - Partnering with parents: present - Parent formation (book studies, seminars) and open/welcoming campus: not evidenced - Estimated percent_coverage: 1 of 3 ≈ 33%.

Rating: SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL

Overall Judgment

- Category ratings: Religious Foundations (Somewhat), Purpose/Goal (Classical), Curriculum (Classical), Pedagogy (Somewhat), Faculty (Somewhat), Parents & Community (Somewhat).
- Aggregate rating: SOMEWHAT CLASSICAL.

Rationale: Strong classical core in mission (TGB), curriculum (Trivium, Latin, Great Books, theology/philosophy), and upper□school pedagogy (Harkness, debate, logic, rhetoric/thesis). To reach a confident “CLASSICAL” overall, the school’s public materials should more clearly evidence liturgical life, restful learning/wonder, lower□school chanting/memory practices, and explicit faculty and parent□formation philosophy as articulated in the Six Elements guidance.

What would move the needle (to CLASSICAL overall)

Targeted, text□level additions to the website or handbook would substantively improve coverage of the Six Elements:

- Religious Foundations
- Publish liturgical/communal practices: daily prayer, chapel, hymnody, feast days, or liturgical calendar rhythms (keywords: liturgy, morning prayer, daily chapel, sacred music, hymnody).
- Pedagogy (K–8 and whole□school)
- Name restful learning explicitly (scholé, contemplation, wonder, deep reading) and show it in schedules or program descriptions.

- Describe lower□school memory arts: chanting, singing, recitation, catechism, and poetry memorization (keywords: chanting, recitation, memory work).
 - Faculty
 - Add a “Portrait of a Teacher” (teachers as mentors/model teachers, “living curriculum,” collegial culture) and classical formation/training for faculty.
 - Parents & Community
 - Offer (and publicize) parent formation: classical book clubs, seminars, parent education nights; state an open□campus/hospitality posture (keywords: parent partnership, co□educators, parent formation).
 - Curriculum
 - State explicitly that students study “history” (not “social studies”), and add a line about cultivating “wonder” and the “unity of truth” across disciplines, as recommended in the curriculum element.

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE DISCLAIMER

This audit was conducted using artificial intelligence tools (including large language models and automated web-analysis scripts) to evaluate the extent to which school websites reflect or incorporate recognized principles of classical education (e.g., the trivium, emphasis on truth/beauty/goodness, integration of great books, Latin/classical languages, Socratic method, rigorous academics, moral/character formation, etc.).

Important Limitations and Caveats

1. Automated Nature: The analysis relies on AI interpretation of publicly-accessible school website content as of the date of the audit. It does not involve direct contact with schools, review of internal documents, classroom observation, or verification of curriculum implementation beyond what is stated or implied on the website.
2. Probabilistic Results: Scores and assessments are probabilistic and reflect the AI's best interpretation of available text and site structure. They are not infallible and may miss nuance, context, or recent changes not yet reflected online.
3. Subjectivity of Classical Education: "Classical Education" encompasses a range of traditions and interpretations (e.g., Dorothy Sayers' trivium model, Classical Christian Education, Great Books programs, etc.). The Humanitas Institute Audit of the Six Elements of Classical Education uses a broad, consensus-based framework derived from prominent classical education organizations and thought leaders. Reasonable people may disagree on weighting or inclusion of specific criteria.
4. No Official Endorsement or Certification: Results do not constitute official endorsement, accreditation, or certification by any classical education organization. They are provided for informational and research purposes only.
5. Potential for Error: Websites may be incomplete, poorly worded, or temporarily inaccurate. Conversely, sophisticated marketing language may create false positives. Human review by parents, educators, or classical education experts is strongly recommended before drawing final conclusions about any school.
6. Data Privacy and Ethics: Only publicly available information was analyzed. No attempts were made to access password-protected areas or collect personal data.
7. No Liability: The authors, developers, and distributors of this audit assume no liability for decisions made on the basis of these results. Users are solely responsible for their own due diligence.
